

TAC Adult Facilitator Job Description

TAC--The Teen Advisory Committee (now in excess of 1500 registered members) is a youth-based organization that is dedicated to developing future community and government leaders, and teaches that community service is not optional but rather a necessary and integral component of being a leader in life. TAC members DO GOOD! in their community by responding to community requests for help. TAC also meets as a group every other month at Town Hall where leadership development principles are demonstrated and taught.

TAC adult facilitators are responsible for guiding and assisting the TAC members as they seek to achieve their goals. Among other things, they teach leadership development principles, coordinate the annual TAC meeting schedule, assist with the annual election process for TAC Executive Board members, and provide the teens with guidance as they determine their initiatives each year.

The time commitment can, at times, be substantial, but generally is just a couple of hours each month.
